LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

It's said that our college years are some of the best, most transformative years of our lives. It's also said that college is an ivory tower, isolating its students from reality for a few final years before they plunge into the real world. For the Roger Williams University Class of 2005, the first of those sayings has certainly proven true, but not the second.

Just five school days after your first classes here began in 2001, the "real world" asserted itself unforgettably into all of our lives, as a group of terrorists carried out an unprecedented attack on American soil, an event whose horror, emotion and tragedy are now conjured in the four quiet syllables, "9/11." As television news analysts immediately began predicting – and as subsequent events have borne out – our country would never be quite the same again. And neither would we.

Like you, I remember the morning of September 11 vividly. In a way, I was a freshman too, having just been appointed as the eighth president of Roger Williams

University. I was new – learning the names of faculty, exploring buildings, making connections, finding my parking place. It was strange to be dealing with an unprecedented human tragedy and world-changing events in an unfamiliar place, among strangers.

We didn't stay strangers for long, however. That very evening, a crowd nearly a thousand strong converged on D'Angelo Common – to reflect and pray, to seek and offer comfort, in a spontaneous candlelight vigil. As I walked among you that night, I was moved by the maturity of tone and depth of compassion all around me. This was no raucous gathering of kids just out of high school: Barely a week after moving into your dorm rooms, you had become adults.

The class of 2005 is special. Unlike any others before you or those who come after, you are truly "my class." You and I entered as newcomers in 2005 and, over the past four years, have grown – as has the University.

Think about the changes we've seen over the past four years, great and small: Four years ago there was no Campus Recreation Center, no trading rooms in business, no great gallery and high-tech classroom in architecture, or Mary Tefft White Center in the library. Students could not register for classes online, and the study abroad programs in Florence did not exist.

There was no Socrates Café, no commitment to civil discourse, no speakers like Salman Rushdie or Erin Brockovich or Bob Kraft.

There were no students from Afghanistan, no visitors from Iraq, no Fulbright scholars among our graduates. Four years ago the university hadn't appeared on CNN, or in the New York Times or the International Herald Tribune heralding our global efforts.

Today we have 50 more faculty than four years ago, more hours of community service logged by students, record numbers of faculty-student research collaborations, not to mention sushi in the dining hall and arguably better coffee on campus.

What has not changed in the past four years is the tradition of caring, dedicated faculty committed to excellence in teaching.

You are graduating from a school better than the one you began at and your efforts and leadership inside and outside the classroom has made a difference.

As you return as alumni you will find a University that is increasingly important – locally, regionally and in the world. The face of campus will change, but few of the changes will be as pronounced or as important as those that occurred in your time, our time, at Roger Williams University.

Thank you all for the past four years. They have been special to me and to the University.

Sincerely,

Roy J. Nirschel, Ph.D.
President Roy J. Nirschel, Ph. D.

Please Note: Out of respect for the Graduates, Honorary Degree recipients and other speakers, we ask that you turn off all cellular phones and noise making pagers during the ceremony. Thank you.

José Manuel Durão Barroso
President of the European Commission and former Prime Minister of Portugal
Doctor of Laws
honoris causa

President of the European Commission and former Prime Minister of Portugal, José Manuel Durão Barroso is what the BBC has termed "a convinced European" – fluent in several languages, and one of very few leaders capable of uniting all 25 European Union member states.

As Prime Minister, Mr. Barroso endeavored to comply with the terms of the European growth and stability pact, pressing ahead with economic austerity measures designed to cut Portugal's budget deficit. He did not shy from controversial international decisions, such as supporting the 2003 invasion of Iraq.

Born in Lisbon, Portugal, Mr. Barroso has taught at the Law School of Lisbon University, Geneva University in Switzerland, and Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. He has authored two books and numerous scholarly articles on political science and international relations.

José Manuel Durão Barroso, your commitment to scholarship, hard work and public service has brought tremendous benefits to Portugal, Europe, and the world at large. Roger Williams University is proud to award you this Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

ACADEMIC RECORD

This list of degree candidates is based upon each student's academic record as of May 2, 2005. A double asterisk (**) denotes students who have the distinction of completing the requirements for two majors and are candidates for the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Fine Arts. Honorary distinctions noted in this Commencement Program are based upon students' current cumulative grade point averages which will be recalculated upon completion of all degree requirements.

Diplomas and official transcripts are issued to graduates only after all degree requirements are met. All degrees and honors are certified by the University Registrar. Honorary distinction, awarded to students who have met the residency requirement (54 credits), are based upon final cumulative grade point averages:

Summa cum laude – 3.8

Magna cum laude – 3.6

Cum laude – 3.4

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The standard academic costume used today has its roots as far back as medieval times, when gowns were worn daily in European universities to identify disciplines of study and provide warmth.

In 1895, American campuses adopted the formal Academic Costume Code based on this historical precedent. The code allows the audience to determine from the costume the degree, academic discipline, and often the institution that awarded the degree.

The academic costume consists of a cap with a tassel, a gown, and a hood. The tassel may be in the color of the major field of study, or in gold signifying a doctor. Different tassels are worn by those graduating with honors: white for Summa Cum Laude; white and blue for Magna Cum Laude; and blue for Cum Laude. The gowns range from unornamental for a bachelor; to longer sleeves for a master; to more ornamental, with three bands on the sleeve and front panel, for a doctor. The hood is bordered in the color of the major field of study and lined in the color of the institution which awarded the degree.

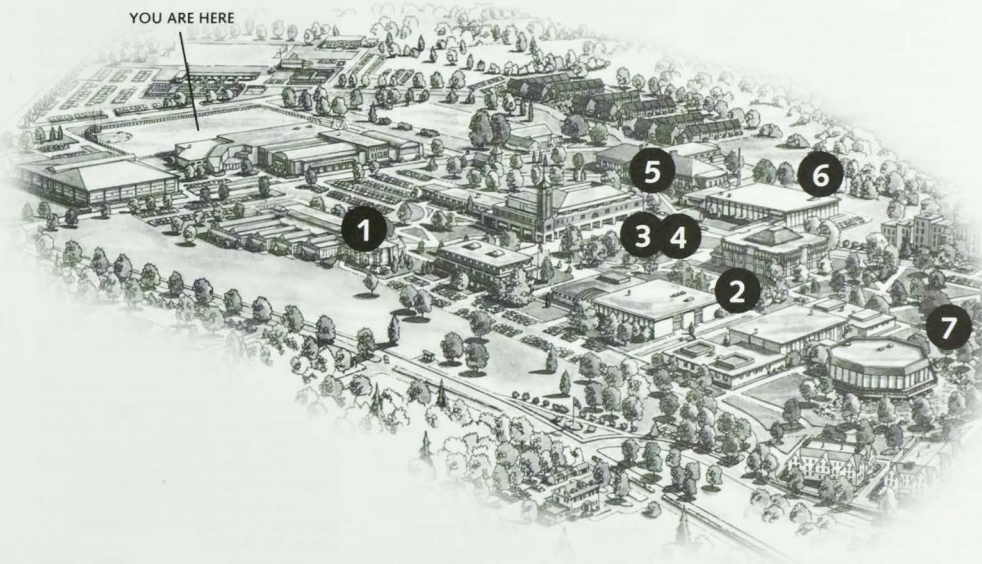

Variations from this standard may indicate academic costuming from foreign universities, or a specific expression of a group or individual.

The standard academic color code follows.

Major Field	Color
Agriculture	Maize
Architecture	Orchid
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Business
Administration	Drab
Criminal Justice	Dark Blue
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
